NARRATIVE:

In Simulation 7, I, as a principal of the high school, was given the responsibility of planning and sharing the news of a student who committed suicide during an active shooting event at their house. I was tasked with ensuring student safety and recognizing student's grief. One of the Model Code of Ethics for Educators(MCEE) Related to this incident is MCEE Principle 2 Part C, Number 3. "The professional educator demonstrates competence by acting in the best interest of all students by protecting students from any practice that harms or has reasonable potential of harm. (NASDTEC, 2023). I believe the reason why this connected with me is that there was a time when I would have committed suicide when I was six years old due to the trauma that I had just gotten through. If I had never met my adoptive mom, I probably would have gone through with it. Later in life, I would have teachers who would guide me to remember the purpose of living. They taught me how to see my life as something worth living. I think this is a great example of ensuring that I did not harm myself. I think the verse in the Bible that sticks out to me the most in the talk about harming yourself or suicide is the verse in Romans 8:33-39. “33 Who will bring any charge against those whom God has chosen? It is God who justifies. 34 Who then is the one who condemns? No one. Christ Jesus, who died—more than that, who was raised to life—is at the right hand of God and is also interceding for us. 35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall trouble, hardship, persecution, famine, nakedness, danger, or sword? 36 As it is written:

“For your sake, we face death all day long;
we are considered as sheep to be slaughtered.”[j]

37 No, in all these things, we are more than conquerors through him who loved us.

For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons,[a] neither the present nor the future, nor any powers, 39 neither height nor depth nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.” (Bible Gateway Passage: Romans 8 - New International Version, n.d.) This bible reminds us that God's love can conquer all the hardships we must go through, and if we lean on him, then we can conquer all.
